Casa de los Duques de Segorbe

XVII C. COLUMNATED PATIO

The XVII C. Casa Palacio of the Duques of Segorbe, located in the Barrio de Santa Cruz in Sevilla, is full of details of good taste, and is without doubt one of the most beautiful in Seville.

The columns are lean and bulged, the arches slightly raised and the gallery unusually spacious, with a generous height. The top gallery, also columnated and open, contributes to the sensational ambiance. In the centre of the Patio, a bold octogonal arabesque tiled fountain and generous potted clivias by the columns. All these elements together provide an exceptional aesthetic.

The Patio has capacity for 4 large tables for 12 in each corner, and for 11 tables of 10 in the sides, totalling 160 persons. In the 4 contiguous living rooms a further 10 tables of 10 can be fitted, for a total of 160 persons seated.

XVI C. MUDEJAR COLUMNATED PATIO

The Casa de Salinas was built by Baltasar Jaén around the year 1600, a time in which Seville was the most splendid city in the Europe, was full of artists. Of a renaissance conception, the Casa de Salinas puts together gothic, mudejar and renaissance decorative elements with great warmth.

The Salinas family has restaured and maintained the house to minute detail and in impeccable taste. The Columnated Patio has been covered by a glass ceiling, providing it the possibility of hosting events in the courtyard - of upto 160 persons - even in the worst of weathers.

Casa de Guardiola

Sevilla

PATIO DE COLUMNAS del S. XIX

The Casa Palacio de Guardiola is located in the Puerta de Jerez, the entryway to the monumental centre of Seville, at the beginning of the Avenue of the Constitution, which leads to the Cathedral and the Alcazar Royal Palace.

Felipe Guardiola, in the year 2002 began to host events and to reform the house for the use of events, installing impermeable canvasses in the columnated courtyard, the garden and the “patio de caballos” such that these can be used even in the case of rain, and also redesigning several carriage bays for their use as a disco.

The plurality of available spaces permit the Casa de Guardiola to serve a better service for the needs of complex events.

The Casa de Guardiola has a capacity of upto 400 persons in the same covered space, and upto 700 using all at once.

Villa Luisa

Sevilla

XXth C. Suburban Chalet

Villa Luisa is the house-palace built by the argentine familiy Bem-berg for the IberoAmerican Exhi-bition held in 1929 in Sevilla. It has a regionalist style with morrocan, arabic and persian decorative ele-ments.

What is most spectacular about Vi-lla Luisa is its extensive almost cen-tenary palm tree private garden, the imaginary oasis made true, which makes Villa Luisa the best location in Sevilla for an open-air cocktail reception for hundreds of persons.

At the end of the XXth. Century, the family built a large square function room, measuring 18 x 18 meters, with a capit for 350 persons seated.

Villa Luisa has become the fa-vourite location in Sevilla for the celebration of weddinds, so Satur-days are reserved fully a year in advance.
